THE FLEXIBLE BODY PROTECTOR FOR WOMEN

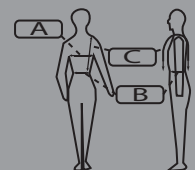

Designed for females of all shapes and sizes, the Outlyne is the latest body protector from Airowear. It has been developed through years of scientific research into how a body protector should fit the female figure. Outlyne combines maximum protection and unrestricted movement with a perfect fit and super soft flexibility.

Breaking the concept that single-panelled body protectors are rigid, inflexible and uncomfortable; Airowear introduce their range of garments incorporating ULTRAFLEX TECHNOLOGY™.

Outlyne is the revolutionary body protector that uses the latest hi-tech materials which absorb and spread impact, thereby lessening the injury sustained from a fall or kick. Ultraflex™ technology is cleverly structured so Outlyne can spread around the torso, moulding comfortably to the contours of the body.

Airowear's combination of Ultraflex™ technology with lightweight and perforated materials creates the ultimate in comfort for body protection.
